

Margot: A Passion for Color

Reality meets fantasy, motion meets stillness... A quest for the expression of beauty, a devotion to color... A compelling journey towards freedom, an alluring invitation to unleash your imagination..

Self-trained artist, Margot Puente started her painting career more than 30 years ago, unfolding her talents through various lenses of art. Her earlier years were dedicated to the abstract, translating the naïf to impressionism, whose famous painters filled her with enthusiasm and flair for color. In that vein, flowers had been her central source of inspiration.

Then came the landscapes with their strong earthy colors, the movement of realism intermingled with fantasy, which formed reservoirs where the beauty of her paintings emerge to life.

Most recently, the unreal unlocks a new feeling where the viewer is once more invited to unleash the imagination; and accompanied by her baggage of numerous journeys, Margot opens the valises of memory and time, moving us effortlessly through her vivid interpretations of Russia, Turkey, Egypt, Ethiopia, among others.

More modest than shy, Margot Puente has always limited her expositions to her most beloved places and to the most intense moments of her artistic career. An exposition of hers is an event, and a delicate invitation, to approach the privacy of her creativity.
